Who We Are

Owner and senior consultant, Ruby Gray, has over 35 years' experience in the field of developmental disabilities, designing and managing effective human service delivery programs (state and private) that provide individualized (person-centered), community-based services and supports. Her experience encompasses all levels of support and ranges from direct care to management, including case management (support coordination), residential, day support, and supported employment programs.

GaPS believes very strongly in the person-centered approach to service delivery. And only employs and/or contracts with other professionals who also embrace the person-centered philosophy.

Our Purpose

Ga Provider Solutions, LLC dba GaPS is a Georgia-based consulting company designed specifically to support community-based support Providers in the business of supporting individuals with disabilities. GaPS was founded on the premise that "because one can bake a mouth-watering apple pie, does not mean one is equipped to run a bakery."

Many caregivers are becoming waiver Providers. Most caregivers, however, have only sub-contracted under large Providers and are lacking in the skills needed to successfully own and operate a business. GaPS was established to assist these caregivers in not only doing what they do best – caregiving - but parlaying their excellent caregiving skills into successful business ventures, while providing top quality services for Individuals with disabilities.

GaPS provides services to a wide range of Providers, from small "mom & pop" operations to large corporations.
